

About Chandra Winford

Chandra Winford is the CEO of Winford Financial located in Austell, Georgia. She is also a top producing Mortgage Loan Officer assisting clients with navigating the loan process. Winford Financial's focus is on providing practical solutions for clients. Services include bookkeeping, tax services, financial consulting and analysis to assist businesses with making better financial decisions. Her prior position was Chief Financial Officer for a worldwide ministry. Under her direction, the ministry has overcome a $10 million dollar deficit in a little over a year. Best known for her ability to push entities into the black. She is an author of a book "Money Does Matter and So Does How you Handle It". A book on practical money solutions for individuals looking for strategies on financial management.

Winford has been a guest on the local TBN Praise the Lord Program in New York City, Panel Speaker for United Negro College Fund Leadership Conference, Good Deeds Radio and Television show with Dr. Renee Sunday, Mother's Love Radio Show and Women Living on Purpose Radio Show. She has also hosted and been a speaker for numerous financial workshops.

Chandra currently resides in the Atlanta area. She recently started a Non-profit "Scholars of Money Matters" to provide financial literacy for students and Individuals of the communities .